ENGLAND IS DEPRESSED

Over Serious Illness of Monarch and Business and Politics Are Temporarily At A Standstill.

London, May 6.—An atmosphere of great depression surrounds Buckingham Palace today. The bulletin describing the King's condition which

King Edward of England.

attendance, issued shortly before noon, while vague in its terms indicated profound gloom throughout the city.

Not Favorable.

It was generally construed to mean the present outlook not at all favorable for the patient. The suddenness of the transition from yesterday morning, when the King was receiving visitors to the present, when it is believed he is critically ill, has shocked the country. For a moment business and politics are at a standstill.

Prince Called.

The Prince of Wales arrived at the Palace at ten o'clock this morning and was taken to the sick chamber. Several physicians and specialists are within call of the sick chamber at all times.

Later Word.

At three this afternoon the court officially stated that so far as could be judged without an expert examination, the King's condition was a shade better than during the night.

Condition Critical.

A bulletin late this afternoon by the King's physicians says "His Majesty's symptoms became worse during the day and the King's condition is now critical."

Royal Family Summoned.

6:00 P. M. All members of the royal family have been summoned to the palace.

Has Choking Spell.

At 8:15 p. m. the King was experiencing choking spells which affect his heart.

May Be Dying.

It is reported among the palace attendants that his Majesty may not survive more than two or three hours.

FRED EDDEN ASSAULTED IN DELOIT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Attacked Without Warning and Felled With A Board By Man Who Mistook Him For Someone Else.

Fred Edden, formerly of Janesville and at present a clerk in Brown Brook, shoe store at Deloit, was attacked without warning and felled with a board in the hands of a man named Henry Barr. Mr. Edden was waiting at the corner of Third street and West Grand avenue for a street car when Barr stopped up and engaged him in conversation. There was nothing unusual about this as the Barrs trade at the shoe store. Suddenly Mr. Barr screamed and the next moment he received a terrible blow on the side of the head. The blow yesterday felled him and he remains unconscious at 11:30. He claimed that the man who assaulted him was some one else. The latter will probably be sued for damages for the unwarranted assault.

NO ONE ALIVE IN ALABAMA MINE. IS THE REPORT NOW

Not Thought Possible That Any Miners
Can Have Survived The Awful
Fire In The Shaft.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Pulaski, Ala., May 6.—Eight bodies were removed shortly after daylight today from the flooded mine, where probably 150 miners were entrapped by the explosion yesterday afternoon.
The condition of the bodies indicated that their death was instantaneous and doubt is expressed of finding any of the others alive.

Nine bodies have been recovered from the mines. The black damp interferes with the rescue work.

Washington, D. C., May 6.—Senators Edwards and Crane informed their associates today they had fifty-five votes, eight more than is needed to defeat every long and short haul amendment to the railroad bill that may be offered. This number includes many democrats.

HUNDRED MILLIONS IN LATEST BILLS

Sundry Appropriation Measure Is Presented to the House For Consideration.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., May 6.—The sundry civil appropriation carrying a total of $111,849,211, was reported to the house today. The total represents a cut of $16,650,000 from the estimate submitted to the committee.
It is $20,000,000 less than the sundry civil bill carried for the present fiscal year. The largest single item is $7,850,000 for the construction of the Panama canal. The bill carries an appropriation for practically all the branches of the government service.

The Railroad Bill.

The House struck out the entire section of the railroad bill prohibiting the acquisition of stock of competing lines.

The postoffice bill carrying $211,

O. H. Eaton extended a cordial greeting and Charles G. Lee of Asheville responded for the visitors.

HEAPING HONORS UPON DR. JACOBI

Great Public Reception to be Held Tonight For the Venerable
New York Physician.

New York, May 6.—The honors which the various hospitals and other institutions of the metropolis have been heaping upon Dr. Abraham Jacobi, the venerable New York physician, during the last few weeks in recognition of his service of fifty years as a staff surgeon of Mount Sinai Hospital, are to reach the climax tonight in a great public reception in celebration of Dr. Jacobi's eightieth birthday. The affair has been arranged by the Medical Society of the state of New York and is to take place at the New York Academy of Medicine.
Dr. Jacobi was born in Westphalia,
May 6, 1830, and received his education in several of the leading German universities. He came to New York in 1853 and soon attained a position of high prominence in the medical profession. During his long career he has been actively connected with many of the foremost medical schools, hospitals and societies of New York. In recent years he has received honorary degrees from Yale, Harvard and Columbia universities and the University of Michigan.

JAIL MARRIAGE TO FORESTALL STATE

George L. Pepon, Accused Of Wife
Murder May Wed Maude
Keller At Colville, Wash.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Colville, Wash., May 6.—On Sunday next and not before, according to law, George L. Pepon, now confined in the Stevens county jail, may marry Maude Keller, to whom he has already been married in British Columbia, and thereby prevent the woman from testifying against him when he is placed on trial the following day to answer to the charge of having murdered his first wife. This is one of the interesting features of a case which attracted attention throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and the trial of which is awaited with intense interest.

George L. Pepon and his wife were residents of Newport, this country.
The death of Mrs. Pepon occurred on August 29, last and at the time was ascribed to natural causes. Shortly afterward, however, Mrs. N. D.
Wolcott of Portland, the mother of the dead woman, visited the scene and brought light facts which led to the arrest and indictment of the husband on the charge of having murdered his wife by putting strychnine in her food. Sensational developments in the case followed in rapid succession until the evidence became so strong that the prosecuting attorney is of the opinion that the accused husband cannot escape conviction, even though he marries the woman with whom he is living and thereby prevents her being called as a witness for the state.

On the day following the funeral of Mrs. Edith Pepon, Maude Keller, whose conduct with Pepon had been the cause of much comment, applied for a divorce from her husband and left several years before. When her case came up for hearing, Pepon was the only witness in her behalf.
The decree was granted.

Then without waiting for the period of six months to elapse, as the law of the State of Washington requires before an divorced woman can remarry, Pepon and the Keller woman went to Rossland, B. C., and there a wedding ceremony was performed. Upon their return to the town of Newport they lived as husband and wife, although their marriage was not recognized by the laws of this State.

The six months required by law to elapse on the day before that fixed for the trial of Pepon to begin. If the woman succeeds on Sunday next in having the marriage ceremony performed in full she will thereby escape being called as a witness in the murder case, as the law prescribes that a wife cannot testify against her husband. The prosecuting attorney, however, professes to have a strong enough case against the husband without the testimony of the wife.

The prosecution declares that Pepon's desire to marry the Keller woman was not the only motive that might have induced him to commit the alleged murder. It has been learned that shortly before the death of Mrs. Pepon the husband had induced her to take out a life insurance policy for $10,000. Three weeks after the woman took out the policy, she was given a glassful of strychnine colored liquid, according to the statement of the prosecuting attorney. The liquid, it is said, was prepared by Ray Wilcox, a paroled convict who was familiar with drugs and poisons.
Fifteen minutes after she had swallowed the liquid the woman was dead the victim, as was determined by analysis, of strychnine poisoning. Almost simultaneously Wilcox disappeared, after cashing Pepon's check for $100.

Burglary in Jackson County: Chief of May 1 and $250 in money and $16,000 in notes and securities carried away. Rewards aggregating $150 have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties and the return of the property.

TO MAKE AVAILABLE BIG ORE DEPOSITS

Lake Superior Corporation Will Assist Algoma Central to Finance Extension to Canadian Pacific

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Camden, N. J., May 6.—At a special meeting here today the stockholders of the Lake Superior Corporation voted favorably on the proposal to issue securities of the Algoma Central Railroad Company, a subsidiary of the Lake Superior Corporation, to finance the extension of the railroad to the Canadian Pacific. The extension will complete the Algoma Central Railroad from Sault Ste. Marie to Josephine Junction and thence to Hobson, where it will connect with the Canadian Pacific. The extension will make available proved ore deposits and put the corporation in an independent position. The building of the road will also confirm the corporation's right to valuable land grants.

Trouble—Indiana Miners
Rioting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Danville, Ill., May 6.—The situation at the Westville mines was quiet this morning but owing to the reopening of saloons after two years of a "dry" spell there may be trouble this afternoon. Two companies of state militia are on duty.

This afternoon the two leaders of the mining troubles were arrested and other arrests will follow. Only a few saloons have opened and the soldiers are guarding the mines in Indiana.

ALLEGED VENDORS OF FATAL DRINK

Westerly, R. I. Italian And Wife Are Charged With Selling Whiskey
Containing Wood Alcohol.

Westerly, R. I., May 6.—John Cico, an Italian, and his wife were given a preliminary hearing today on the charge of manslaughter in selling whiskey containing wood alcohol to Daniel T. Sullivan on April 12 last, from the alleged effects of which Sullivan died. The following day, Cico is alleged to have conducted a kitchen luncheon for some time past in his home at White Stock, an Italian settlement near here, and it is suspected that the whiskey he sold was responsible for the deaths of fourteen victims of wood alcohol poisoning in this vicinity in the month of April.

A BITTER FIGHT TO BE EXPECTED

LA FOLLETTE WILL HAVE TO GAIN THE LEGISLATURE.

IT MAY BE A DEADLOCK

Taft Versus the Insurgents in the War, Cry to Be Waged.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 6.—Since the state supreme court has placed the label of "straw vote" on the primary election for the nomination of United States senators, it has become established in Wisconsin that the primary election will only be an informal preliminary to the sharp contest that is to be waged this year for the successor to the seat now occupied by Robert M. La Follette.

This fact has caused the politicians and political observers to carefully note the outlook as indicated by the separate assembly and state senatorial districts, and the conclusion seems irrefragable that this state will be deadlocked on the United States senatorship, with the 133 members of the legislature divided into Taft republicans, La Follette republicans, democrats and social democrats.

Fair examination of the situation shows that only by a political miracle can Senator La Follette gain re-election—such a miracle as a coalition between the La Follette republicans with social democrats and some democrats. It is believed that even more likely than such a combination would be an amalgamation that would unite upon a social democrat, say Mayor
Emil Seldel of Milwaukee or Victor
L. Berger, and send from Wisconsin the first social democratic member to the United States senate.

The most probable outcome of the present imbroglio will be a deadlock in the legislature that will leave the state without its full representation in the upper house of congress.

In the legislature of 1909, only a score of the 133 members were democrats and social democrats. The next legislature will have more than twice as many democrats or social democrats. Two years ago only three assemblymen and one senator were elected by the social democrats.
Since then this party has grown so that it has the mayor, common council and county board of Milwaukee and will doubtless have eleven instead of four members of the legislature.

ARBOR DAY WAS OBSERVED TODAY

IN ALL OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE CITY.

SONGS AND RECITATIONS

Were Given by Pupils of Grade Schools and Schools Were Dismissed for the Day.

Today was the day set by Governor Davidson as the annual Arbor Day and in all of the public schools of the city it was observed with appropriate exercises. At the Adams school all the grades united in an outdoor celebration, pupils from each grade taking a part in the exercises. In the other schools programs of recitations, readings and songs were given by each grade or by several of the grades jointly. After the exercises in the grade schools the scholars were dismissed for the day.

Adams School.
At the Adams school the program was quite elaborate, as pupils from each grade had a part in the program which was given outside on the school grounds. The following was the program given:

Eighth Grade.
"Conservation of the Forests."—Richard Hillton.
"When the Green Gets Back in the Trees."—Dorothy MacLean.
Seventh Grade.

Songs by girls.
Composition—Harry Fuchs.
Recitation—Mary Fanning.
Sixth Grade.

Reading.—"A Fish and a Butterfly."—Beaula Lawlor.
Fifth Grade.
Song by girls—"May."
Recitation—Lillian Hillton.

Fourth Grade.
"Address of the Birds."—Five girls.
"Arbor Day."—Eight children.
Recitation—"Katherine Stead."—Helen Hoeller.
Third Grade.

"The Farmer and the Scare Crow."—Esther Barker.
"Trees I'll Plant."—Lyle Boyce.
Myrtle Keating and Henry Weber.
"He Didn't Think."—Lillian Hoeller.
Second Grade.

Song.—School.
"Signs of May."—Edmund Mitchell.
First Grade.
"Who Says Arbor Day?"—Miriam Decker.

"An Arbor Day Address."—Helen Hoeller.

At the high school this morning the students listened to a very interesting lecture by Miss Mary Armstrong on "The Yosemite Valley and the Big Trees of California." The talk was illustrated by stereoscopic pictures. Short recitation periods were held this morning and the school was closed for the rest of the day at noon.

Douglas School.
The four grades of the Douglas school observed Arbor Day with a joint program in the fourth grade room. The exercises consisted of recitations and songs about Arbor and Bird Day.

Grant School.
In each grade at the Grant school there were Arbor Day exercises and the tree and the shrubs planted earlier in the spring were dedicated.

Lincoln School.
The first and second, and third and fourth grades of the Lincoln school united in the presentation of a program of dialogues, songs and recitations. In the sixth grade a program of readings and recitations. In the seventh and eighth grades general Arbor Day programs were given.

Webster School.
The meaning of Arbor and Bird Day was told to the pupils of the Webster school in talks to the scholars by the teachers. The first and second grades held their exercises together and the kindergarten and fifth grade had separate programs of music and recitations.

Garfield School.
The observance of Arbor Day at the Garfield school was similar to that of all the schools, with exercises in each grade, the seventh and eighth grades holding their exercises together.

Washington School.
Each of the grades of the Washington school observed the day with programs of singing, readings, and speaking appropriate to the occasion.

Jefferson School.
The grades of the Jefferson school each held exercises of speaking, singing and reading in their separate rooms today.

HAS FACSIMILE OF PAPER PUBLISHED IN YEAR 1773
Mrs. M. E. Hollis Has Facsimile of Paper in Which Advertisement for George Washington Appears.

An interesting document to the students of colonial history is that owned by Mrs. M. E. Hollis of 1320 Mineral Point avenue, a facsimile of the Baltimore and Maryland Journal, an advertising sheet published in 1773. The paper has the peculiar letters used in those days and among other things of interest is a real estate advertisement for George Washington. The original of the paper is kept in a colonial museum at Boston.

PLANS TO CAPTURE STATE CONVENTION

Janesville Aerle No. 724 F. O. E. Elect Delegates to Attend State Gathering of Order.

If hard work will secure it, Janesville is to be the place for the holding of the Nineteen Eleven convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. While this has been decided upon for some time past the local aerle No. 724 F. O. E. at their regular meeting last evening named the following as delegates to the state convention in their representatives.

E. B. Connors, Jr., J. Cunningham, Hugh Joyce, Jr., Michael Mulquhann and F. J. Schmidt. These gentlemen were instructed to use all their persuasive power upon the convention to induce them to select Janesville as their meeting place for next year. It was also decided to appoint a general boosting committee to go to Sheboygan to aid in the work. This committee will have charge of the outside work of inducing the members to name Janesville and will not be an advertising committee.

The funds necessary for this work are being raised by the aerle of boxing contests which have been held during the winter, the last of which comes on Monday night next. The committee having charge of the raising of these funds also plans for a picnic up the river some time this month a genuine fish chowder and general fish dinner being contemplated. The convention this year at Sheboygan.

FIVE YEARS BEHIND BARS FOR NORTHWAY
Degenerate Petitioned For Immediate Trial and Pleaded Guilty in Court This Morning.

Through Attorney W. H. Dougherty who was appointed by the court to investigate the case and represent the prisoner, Archie Northway, who was arrested on Wednesday for a criminal offense against a little boy such as only a pervert and degenerate could commit, petitioned for an immediate hearing and entered a plea of guilty to the information filed against him. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, Northway mumbled something about having been intoxicated at the time and not having realized what he was doing. Attorney Dougherty stated that he had made a thorough investigation of the case and could not help but believe that man must have been under the influence of liquor.

Judge Field said: "That of course, does not excuse anybody. But it was an offense so abhorrent to the senses of everybody that it does seem as if no man not in some abnormal state could possibly have committed it. Yet Northway hasn't even the merit of not knowing what liquor will do to a man."

"It can accomplish no good purpose to talk about this matter. I hope that neither you, Northway, nor anybody else will ever come before me again for such an offense. I don't think the punishment provided by the statute is severe enough. But I'm bound by it. I will impose the full penalty. If you behave yourself and serve your time you will be doing too little in explanation of the crime you have committed. If it is true that you suffer with fits, the medical attention you will receive at the penitentiary may prove sufficiently beneficial to that you will never have that excuse again. The sentence is that you, Archie Northway, be confined in the state's prison at Waupun, at hard labor, for a period of five years commencing this day, noon, and that the first day of actual imprisonment be solitary."

Curley Floyd Draht left for Waupun with the prisoner at noon today.

LAYMAN'S MOVEMENT CHICAGO MEETINGS

Five Thousand Delegates From All Parts of the Country Present at Gathering.

(By special correspondent.)
Chicago, May 5.—The National Congress of the Layman's Missionary Movement comprising some 5,000 delegates from the different denominations of protestants has proved to be one of the most remarkable gatherings of modern times in America. The congress has been the talk of Chicago, in fact, has taken the big city on the lake by storm. The spectacle of the big auditorium and the Orchestra Hall engaged for one and the same day and filled with vast throngs of enthusiastic business men has aroused curiosity and resulted in wonder. No politicians looking for an office, no business men interested in trade progress, but physicians, lawyers, teachers, bankers, and all sorts of commercial men interested in worldwide missions.

Two or three quite new and very revolutionary ideas have found expression. The first was uttered by Bishop Anderson, (Episcopal) who declared that the denominational rivalry and waste was a disgrace to the churches and must cease. This note was received with thunders of applause by the practical business men, and no feature of this congress has been more striking than the unity of the Christian church exemplified in missionary work. Dr. Parker of Boston expressed the same in regard to medical missionary work, and Secretary Stuntz said the hour had come for the establishment of a University in Manila by all the protestant bodies in the union.

The other most valuable contribution of general interest comes out of the political situation by which all the East and Africa are free to missionary enterprise; as Lord William Cecil of England said, the world has shrunk to a little neighborhood, and every nation is interested in every other. A fine instance of this was seen in the case of the speech of the Hon. Mr. Yun of Korea, who is at the head of one of the leading educational institutions there and presented the contribution in thought, which the east is giving to the west. It may be truthfully said that the public are having their eyes opened and the vast business, political, and professional bounding of the work of the missionary by this congress is never before; and that problems of morals and religion, of rivalries of sects, and financial difficulties for Christian work are being solved by the intense warmth of love for a great cause, and the new practical plans of modern men for accomplishing a work worthy of American manhood. So speaking in my experience, and I have heard some of the ablest statesmen and orators of Europe and America, has surpassed in grasp and clearness of vision that of several of those missionaries and leaders in this congress.

Progress.

GOVERNMENT DEFAUDED OUT OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS BY CLEVER TRICK.

New York, N. Y.—The trial of Philip A. Phillips, Mary S. Moore and Isabel Holland, charged with complicity in the "sleeper" trunk conspiracy by which the government is said to have been defrauded of millions of dollars of customs duties, was begun last week before Judge James L. Martin in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court. Immediately before their case was called Robert Schwartz, head baggage master of the Red Star and American steamship companies, on whose docks the trunks were loaded, pleaded guilty to an indictment against him on a similar charge in the same case.

Schwartz was placed on the stand later in the afternoon and testified that he had been paid sums ranging from $50 to $115 a trunk for his services in helping to bring the trunks through without payment of duties. Schwartz testified that Phillips had paid the money to him.

Schwartz was the last witness of the day and he was placed on the stand after the prosecution had requested a description of the way baggage is handled on the docks from other witnesses. Schwartz was then sentenced after pleading guilty to the indictment against him.

He described the method used in smuggling through the "sleeper" trunks or trunk, that had been left on the docks after the customs inspectors had gone.

The method was clever. Trunks were shipped in the name of well-known tourists on the next boat after they had left Europe. These were received in New York as left-over baggage and as such held. After the customs officials had left for the day, these were transferred to another pier by an overhead trolley by a cooper, late and delivered to the parties interested. It is estimated that the government was defrauded out of about $5,000,000 in this way.

Phillips in this way, to have been the brains of the deal.

A BID FOR VICE.

"Simultaneously with the news that Mr. Francis J. Honey had decided to remove from San Francisco to New York appears Mayor McCarthy of the former town with his civic platform. These two items have a close relationship. Mr. Honey, the public prosecutor who was vilified by the press of San Francisco, shot and nearly killed, and made the victim of a widespread conspiracy, was finally defeated for election at the polls. He did all a man could do for San Francisco, and more than any one else had the courage to do. The elements of evil triumphed against him and he has taken himself away. He should not be blamed.

"McCarthy, who represents everything Honey fought against, is one of a delegation of San Franciscans touring the country to secure the endorsement of that city as the site of a Panama exposition. His platform as he gives it out contains these pronouncements:

"A closed town is a dead town.
"The lid does more harm than good.
"There are no blue laws in San Francisco.

"We believe in an open town well regulated. A lid only hides vice and gambling and does not eradicate it.

"If San Francisco desires the exposition and the respect of the nation it should recall its mayor and repudiate his platform. The sentiment of the latter is not such as will appeal to decent people. It is typical of the element which has dragged San Francisco in the mire and made its name a byword."—Chicago Tribune.

When the Chicago on the coast was in ruins as the result of earthquake and fire, the heart of the nation went out in practical sympathy, but when corruption and graft marked the progress of rebuilding, the people turned away with disgust and the sentiment was often expressed that the city deserved complete annihilation.

With the defeat of Honey and the election of the present Mayor McCarthy the city declared that it preferred vice to virtue and had no desire to reform. But little interest will be taken in the Panama canal celebration because the name, San Francisco, is a byword, and will continue to be until the city comes to its senses.

"Homes and rents are much too high. I saw it coming long ago and hence went into making cement, the cheapest and most durable building material man has ever had. I just sold a house instead of a brick. I believe that the houses can be erected complete with plumbing and heating apparatus for $1,200 each when erected on land underlaid with sand and gravel. In cut stone such a house would cost $50,000."

"This paragraph from Thomas Edison will appear in the June number of Popular Electricity. Why don't some enterprising contractor construct a model house. If Edison's claims are good, it would sell as soon as completed. Model homes for $1,200 are always in demand.

SHIFTING POLITICAL POWER.

"Comment and conjecture arising from the announced early retirement of Senators Aldrich and Hale continue, and are losing nothing of interest as they proceed. It appears to be the universal opinion that the prestige of the east in congress and in national politics will be seriously impaired by the withdrawal of the leaders named from public life. There is, indeed, a remarkable willingness on all sides, now that these men are about to retire, to concede to them qualities whereof the possession entitles public men everywhere to respect and honor. The west goes even farther than the east in recognizing the influence and the power wielded by these representative New Englanders in the domain of legislation and politics during a third of a century. And this naturally leads to recognition of the valuable public services rendered by New England's senators and representatives in general since the beginning of our national history.

"It will appear to the open-minded observer as rather a remarkable thing that there should be so much unanimity of belief with relation to the shifting of political power as a consequence of this change in New England's representation, and other important changes which present political conditions threaten. It is assumed in some quarters as a matter of course, that the middle west, or, as some will have it, the Mississippi valley, will now become the dominant political section of the country.

"That it is safe to say that New England will not, because of the retirement of Messrs. Aldrich and Hale, or for any other reason, voluntarily part with any prestige that rightfully belongs to her.

"No amount of theorizing will bring about the transfer of New England's prestige to any other quarter of the nation. It will have to be fought for and fairly won, and it is a mistake to suppose that because of pending and probable changes in the representation of New England at Washington its defense will be in any way weak.

Change of leadership in congress is thus discussed by the Christian Science Monitor, and the claim that New England will continue to maintain her position at the front is likely to be made good.

The New England states have long pursued the policy of electing good men to congress, and keeping them there for a life time. This is of peculiar advantage because of the prestige of seniority, so thoroughly established, especially in the upper house of congress.

The work of congress, like the work of all legislative bodies, is done in committee rooms, and length of service is necessary to a place on all important committees.

Representatives from the west are constantly changing, and as a result a majority of them are never heard from. Just who will succeed Aldrich and Hale in the senate is not yet determined, but it is safe to say that the New England states are likely to furnish the men.

W. J. Bryan declares that he will not be a candidate in 1912 and democracy breathes easier. He urges the importance of uniting on some man who represents true democracy and proceedings will be watched with interest. The democratic party enjoys the reputation of doing the wrong thing at the right time and can usually be counted on to make blunders enough to insure defeat. If victory results in the next campaign, it will be through the aid of the insurgents.

President Taft did not hesitate to express his opinion of W. J. Bryan in his St. Louis speech, a day or two ago. Bryan had criticized the president for appointing Governor Hughes to the supreme bench, on the ground that he was a friend of the corporations. The president said that a square deal for all classes of men was demanded, and he had no sympathy for the sentiment which recognized classes and sought to stir up class hatred.

The income tax proposition has been voted down in twelve states, New York being the last to reject it. This means that the measure will not be considered as a constitutional amendment and the country can breathe easier. If there is any sense in taxing ability it has not yet been stated, and that is what an income tax is equally unjust, and will be found illegal when the courts decide on it.

Edward Payson Weston, the veteran pedestrian, completed his walk of nearly 4,000 miles from Los Angeles to New York, a few days ago, demonstrating that age is not a bar to endurance. Out door life and exercise have kept Weston young, and at 75 he is as sprightly as a boy of 15. The fountain of perpetual youth is within every grasp, and premature old age seems inexhaustible.

The Illinois state press is divided in its judgment over the Lorimer exposure as published in the Chicago Tribune, but a unit in denouncing the man White as the cheapest kind of a secondhand.

The southern cotton planters have the satisfaction of knowing that the hole weevil is frost bitten beyond recovery. Many other pests have also been put out of business.

The republican party needs a few "Uncle Joes" Cannon in the prime of life, just now, to hold the ship of state steady during these days of insurrection and disloyalty.

According to Samuel G. Blythe, the muckraker writer for the Saturday Evening Post, there isn't enough left of the republican party to wind a gun.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Shaw Adams.)

There was a man who had a roll so big 't would plug a stovepipe hole. He longed to mingle with the crowd and show he wasn't vain or proud; to gain the confidence of those who labor hard and wear old clothes; to prove he was a mighty man, built on a broad, heroic plan. But all his efforts failed, and he was plunged in dark blue misery. The fact that he was heavily rich dumped all his longings in the ditch. The people wouldn't overlook the figures in his bank book; they couldn't estimate his soul, or separate it from his roll. He gave his native town a park; "this science hints him in the dark," the people said, and grudgingly smiled; "re-morse will surely drive him wild." He gave a picnic to the poor, who bleat and squeal like calves; the people said: "For vain display he throws his shining scads away; he listens to the paupers' sighs, and mounds his button in their eyes." No matter what his plan or dream, the people saw a seamy scheme behind it, and abused him sore, and threw it into him some more. And so he said, with nothing heart: "The rich man lives a life apart; he can't get next the common squad while he is saddled with his wealth; folks won't love him as a soul, because they know he has a roll."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A MOTHER'S RING.

During the anti-saloon crusade in Chicago a woman sent this letter to the editor of one of the newspapers:

Dear Sir:—Will you please give this ring a place? It will bring to help put the saloons out of Chicago when they have the election? You know what is the best society or fund for the work. I have that to you. From one who hopes to see the day for my children's sake.

When the letter was opened a worn little hoop of gold, evidently a wedding ring, fell out.

She had sent a woman's dearest treasure, one of the last things she will willingly give, for the sake of a cause.

"That simple little jewel was worth millions to her, any, on her wedding day, when her young heart swelled with happiness and the hand of gold stood for her future.

The trinket stood for the young husband who had won her heart, for the little home that was to be, for the little ones who would come to that home—all that a woman's heart yearns for and cares for.

Read between the lines.

Do you not see the pathos in that last sentence? Somewhere in the years that are gone her beautiful castle of hope had fallen to the earth.

"For my children's sake."

Who was it? Was it the husband who failed her, or a son that went down in the depths to break the mother's heart, or a daughter dragged into the slough of despond by one who promised to love and cherish?

The letter was unsigned.

The writer made no bid for notoriety. There was no hope of personal gain. It was the simple offering of a woman of the widow's mite, only the ring, a trinket that could be bought at any jewelry store for less than $10—just a ring that once had linked two lives.

Only a ring.

But because of the innocent pathos of the message and the gift it is small wonder a Chicago minister in the name of his church gave $100 for it, the money to go for fighting the saloons.

Whose ring was it?

Nobody knows. Only this is known: It was the ring of a woman whose heart had been wrong, a woman who had faith and hope in a crusade against a foe of her children and her home.

Whoever may finally get the worn little ring, may be reverently handled and gently treasure the circle of gold. It came from a mother with a message and a prayer.

Where Can I Do the Best?

THE STYLE of a Garment is the main thing. A woman if not pleased with the STYLE of a SUIT or COAT would not want it at ANY PRICE. REGARDING STYLE, we follow with a few remarks about WHAT we are showing in Suits and Outer Garments. REGARDING PRICES, we feel that it is time to reduce our stock and PRICES must be made ATTRACTIVE. OUR PRESENT PRICES will interest prospective buyers. ALL GARMENTS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES showing just what any of them WERE selling for, and the NEW PRICES show the saving. No matter what we say, one must see the garments and pass judgment before making a purchase. We are here to SHOW the garments but not to FORCE a sale. FEEL FREE to call and look, but women understand about that.

Our Prices Are Low, Qualities High

We have one of the finest lines of Pongee coats in the city in fact few large cities would hardly show better lines in Pongee, cloths of gold coats and suits. The coats come in a great variety of styles, the semi-fitting, tight fitting, Russian Blouse effects etc. They are trimmed with black, a touch of gilt, buttons, lavender, and touches of green which are so stylish this season combined with pongee, also the latest brown trimmings.

We show a particularly good line of braided coats cloths of gold with braiding of same color.

Sizes run from 14 misses to 44 ladies.

A Pongee coat is one of the most useful wraps a lady can possess, being nice for wear over summer dresses, party coats, theatre coats and are good for driving or autoing as they clean so easily.

Our wool coats have been large sellers, especially the coverts, Scotch mixtures and Navy blue serges.

While the sale has been very large, yet we have an unbroken assortment of sizes and colors. Sizes run from 16 to 42. The Navy Blue serges show novelty trimmings, embroidery cuffs and collars, some with black morie, long lapels, high military collars and trimmings of contrasting colors.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING JACKETS 32 TO 42 INCHES LONG

The line consists of coverts, Scotch mixtures, pretty soft grays, black panamas, serges and fine quality broadcloths. The line is unequalled hereabouts. These short jackets are very handy for general use to slip on quickly. They will fill a long felt want in any ladies wardrobe. All sizes are included including the stouts, which fit short stout ladies almost perfectly.

SUITS ARE SELLING IMMENSE

With our finely equipped alteration department and our newly remodeled salesroom, we have been able to handle a greater amount of suits this year than ever before. Our assortments of black suits, navy blues, black and white checks and gray and white checks are unequalled. In fact our line of gray suits is one of the prettiest ever shown in Janesville. Grays are scarce, but we bought early and secured not only the best on the market but at exceedingly advantageous prices. The assortments are complete in both the light and dark grays which are so popular this season, and so desirable for travel or even for general wear.

MOTHER SAVES SON FROM DEATH UNDER HEAVY GANG PLOW

Mrs. Charles Nehls' Heroism Averts Fatal Accident at East La Prairie This Morning.

East La Prairie, Wis., May 6.—With the steel point of a heavy gang plow, to which were attached four frightened horses, buried between his slender blades, Fred Nehls, aged twenty-five, who lives on the Yononah farm, was dragged across the road this morning shortly before seven o'clock and narrowly escaped with his life. But for the heroism of Mrs. Charles Nehls, the young man's mother, who was also injured, he undoubtedly would have been killed.

Nehls was hitching up the horses, which were young and excitable, when they became frightened and started to run, hurling the driver to the ground under the plow. One of the plow points caught him between the slender blades and he was jerked loose and the machine passed over Nehls' body.

Mrs. Nehls, who witnessed the accident, courageously attempted to stop the horse and succeeded in catching one line which she clung to before the horses stopped. In spite of her injuries, for she was badly bruised and scratched, she suffered from a sprained ankle, she unlimbered the horses, placed them in the barn and carried her son into the house. Then, although almost exhausted, she ran over half a mile to summon medical assistance.

Dr. Frank Farnsworth of Janesville, who responded to the call, stated that had the plow point penetrated but a short distance further, death would have resulted. As it is, Mr. Nehls is confined to his bed but it is hoped that his injuries will not prove serious. Mrs. Nehls is also badly shaken up and under medical care although her injuries are not as serious as her son's.

AUTO-SCORCHER WAS FINED TEN DOLLARS

Walter Karl Ran Afoul of the Police After Speed Stunt on East Milwaukee Street.

Walter Karl, a young man employed at the Styles & Davis garage on South Main street, executed a half-mile race at speed with an automobile on East Milwaukee street about ten o'clock last evening which caused some of the most one-sided and penitential to pause and whistle in amazement.

"Did you see him cut those corners?" exclaimed one. "That's what you call annihilating space and time!"

Asked if anybody knew who the driver was and the number of the car, not one would answer. If Karl had gone on he would never have been caught. But the chief, surmising that he might turn about and come down the hill, again, posted Officer Blum Dorn at one corner and Officer Blum Dorn at another corner and the two to the eastward. The law headed the first command to "halt!"

Some question arose this morning as to whether or not the city ordinance which prescribes a ten-mile limit was valid by reason of its conflict with the statute which establishes the maximum speed at twelve miles an hour. City Attorney Alexander and District Attorney Fisher, after a conference, decided that it would be the part of wisdom to have the complaint made under the state law and the latter drew it up.

Karl entered a plea of guilty before Judge Pfaff. He said that he did not remember of having been warned driving too fast—often after he was driving the car at high speed in order to get up the hill. Karl said the court: "The speed at which you boys and some of the men too, are driving machines in the city is getting to be pretty dangerous. If you can't climb hills at high speed without breaking the law you'll have to do it at low speed. I'll make it the minimum penalty this time—$10 and costs, amounting to $3, or 15 days in jail." Karl's friend came to his aid and paid the fine and costs.

COMET PARTIES IN CITY DISAPPOINTED

Clouds Obscured Clear Vision of Halley's Wonder This Morning—Still Few More Oppor-tunities.

Janeyville residents who have not as yet secured their view of Halley's comet can have a noted opportunity tomorrow morning between three and three thirty and if the sky is clear at this hour it will be a sight well worth viewing. In an address on this heavenly visitor given by Rev. J. L. McGee of Milwaukee, before an audience in Milwaukee the priest astronomer gave some interesting data relative to the slight to be seen and the scientific importance of its appearance.

The earth passed through the tail of a comet in 1861, but the scientific fraternity did not discover the fact until it was too late. This year it has been figured out that the earth will pass through the tail, and scientists in all parts of the world have made full preparations to study the phenomenon.

The comet will pass between the earth and the sun on May 18, in this latitude, at about 3:15 in the evening. Prof. McGee said that there ought to be a wonderful display in the heavens on that night, even though the moon may to some extent deprive the comet of its brilliancy. After telling in some detail the historical and scientific story of the comet, Prof. McGee went on to discuss the "superstitions" and "notions" of some folks regarding the mysterious skies.

"A celestial hobo," in the first place there will be no cataclysm or other disaster by fire or poison on May 18. "Through all the ages comets have been regarded as harbingers of impending evil," said Prof. McGee. "Way back in the year 66 folks saw the comet and they were terrified, and then Jerusalem fell. Later on, in the century succeeded century, the popular belief in the comet as a harbinger of trouble and disaster, grey ages. Even today there are people who look forward with dread, and perhaps preparation, to May 18. They fear some upheaval or disaster will follow in its wake."

"But there is no danger of anything happening. For example, some fearful ones expect to see the earth catch fire when it passes through the tail of the comet. This cannot happen, because I think you will find that the part of the tail we will strike will be quite cold. It will be more likely to cool the atmosphere than set fire to it. Then you hear that our times will be poisoned by the gases in the tail. This will not happen either, because there will not be enough gases of a poisonous nature to do harm. The tail of the comet is an exceedingly dilapidated substance, and whatever poisons it contains will be quickly absorbed and diffused by our atmosphere."

"Then the comet will not fall into the sun, as some folks fear, for the very good reason that on May 18 it will already have passed the nearest point of its orbit, and this danger will be averted for at least another seventy-five years."

as that is clearly democratic, and C. H. Wolske will probably be re-elected. Up in the tenth district, Assemblyman George Hambrecht, Taft man, is already out against Congressman Morse, insurgent.

It is said that even in the eleventh district, insurgent of Superior, a Taft man will be put up. Mr. Connor's campaign work just now is preliminary organization, particularly arranging to have Taft candidates in the field everywhere.

While many friends of Governor Davidson have not yet given up hope that he will be a candidate for another term, it seems that he will not run, but he remains a formidable possibility for the senatorship in the event that the legislature is deadlocked between La Follette and B. A. Cook, the two present candidates for the republican nomination.

A circumstance that is worrying the La Follette people is the fact that the democrats will be kept out of the republican fight in the primaries, because they indicate a strong desire to get together for their own good, and will have to stick to their own primaries if they are to put up county democratic tickets. The last legislature made amendments to the primary election law requiring parties, nominees to have not less than ten per cent of their party vote in order to be nominated. Therefore, even in the absence of democratic candidates, they will have to do some voting on their own account if they are to put up democratic tickets.

One Private $850. It will surprise most persons, says the Army and Navy Journal, to learn that the cost to the government of maintaining a private soldier is but a trifle more than it was 30 years ago. It was about $850 then and is about the same now.

A SERIOUS SUBJECT. "I suppose we will soon be hearing the joke about the big fish that got away," "My friend," replied the fisherman, "with food at present prices the fish that gets away is not a joke. It is a calamity."

THE THEATER

Most musical comedies fit gaily in to view, have a butterfly life of a season or two and then vanish into darkness. A play with a longer life is "The Flower of the Ranch," for it was produced in New York, two years ago, and then played a whole summer at the Garrick theatre in Chicago, and today is in constant demand throughout the United States. "The Flower of the Ranch" has the merit of possessing a well developed story, with characters drawn consistently and incidents free from exaggeration. The songs have a fascinating charm and all in all it is a play that really makes theatre-going worth while. This attraction will appear at the Myers theatre on Monday evening, May 9.

GOV. DENEEN ORDERS TROOPS TO THE MINES

Hushes Two Companies to Danville District Where Situation If Grave.

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—Companies of the state militia at Danville and Champaign were ordered to Danville by Governor Deneen at the request of the sheriff of Vermillion county to assist that official in maintaining order in the Danville mining district.

The order for troops was issued after the local officials assured the governor that the situation was grave and there was danger of an outbreak because the saloons have just reopened in Westville after a period of two years under local option.

Danville, Ill., May 6.—Declaring that their wives and children were crying for food and that they themselves were hungry, 700 or 800 miners, mostly Slavs and Italians, massed at Westville and marched on the coal mines of this district, demanding repair men from the pits and demanding a share of the work.

From mine to mine at Kelloggville, Westville, South Westville and Little Vermillion, the mob went, armed with clubs and stones. The men employed at repairs or installing safety devices came out willingly, but at Kelloggville there was a fight. Some men were bruised, but none was severely hurt.

Pittsburg, Kan., May 6.—Four hundred miners marched out of the Clemens Coal company's strip mines south of here and demanded that all other employees cease work, some threatening to cut their heads off like chickens if they failed to do so.

FAMOUS PREACHER IS DEAD.

Rev. Alexander McLaren Was the Author of Many Works.

Edinburgh, May 6.—Alexander McLaren, the noted Manchester preacher, died here. Dr. McLaren was minister of Union chapel, Manchester, since 1868. He was born in 1826. He published several series of powerful sermons and a number of other works.

Chinese Revolt in Hand. Chang-sha, China, May 6.—The band of revolutionists employed by influential persons here to instigate anti-government plots has moved on to Taiyeh, Kupeh province, which explains reports from Hankow of trouble in Kupeh. There is reason to believe that the authorities have the situation in the latter province, as well as here, under control.

THREE YOUNG FASHIONABLES.

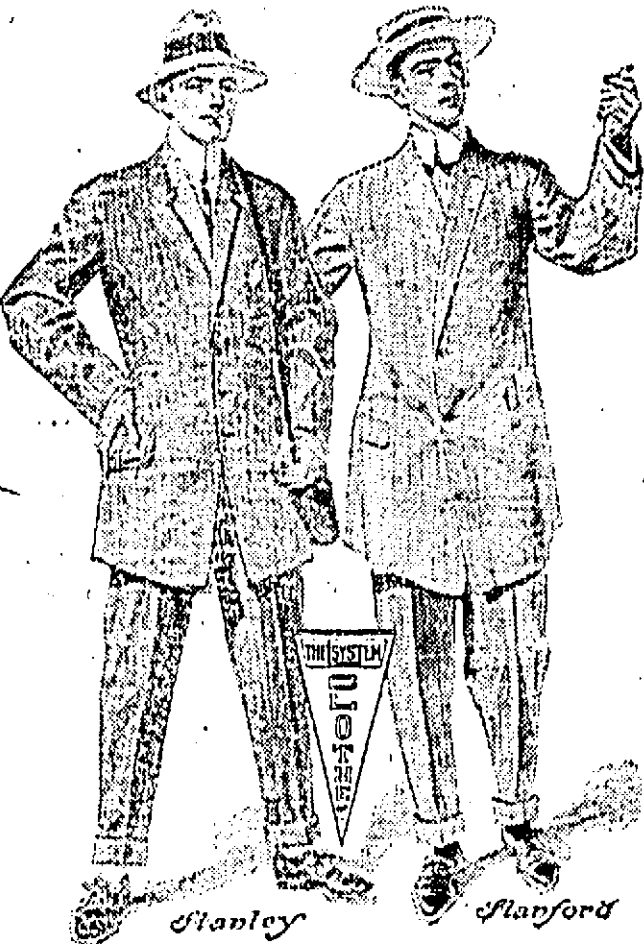

On the left of our charming trio, the smart little lot is wearing a frock of pin striped navy blue silk. Note the effective treatment of stripes in back and sides of skirt. The blouse has a little yoke of allover white lace, and the sash of plain blue velvet ribbon serves as a pretty waist finish. In the center of group is shown an attractive suit for a half-grown girl. This design was effectively followed in a pretty shade of deep rose voile. The little open jacket had an inset vest of white broadcloth trimmed with small pearl buttons, and the skirt and sash were of black tulle. The unique little frock on the right is brown and white check cashmere. A pointed chemise of soft white silk is bordered by two odd covers of plain brown silk—running from shoulder on right side to hem of skirt on left side, and tapering to a sharp point at end. Bottom of skirt is edged with box plaiting of brown silk and the cuffs are also of silk.

Lace Curtains and Curtain Nets

We are having the largest business in lace curtains, curtain nets, serims, muslins, etc., that we have ever had. There is no question but that these results are due to the completeness of our stock and the remarkably low prices for goods of merit. We are receiving new styles and ideas every day, it being the great aim of the department to keep up to date in every particular.

WORTHY OF PARTICULAR MENTION ARE THE FOLLOWING:

Just received 42 inch fine filet nets that have been regularly sold at $1.00 per yd. We shall offer them while they last at 45c yd. They come in one color only, Arabian, small all over designs.

Just received also, a new shipment of popular serims. They come 40 inches wide, are duplex, both sides being alike, at 25c yd. Made in Arts and stenciled patterns and in every conceivable color.

200 Pairs Ruffled Muslin Curtains at 39c.

We place on sale tomorrow 20 pairs of ruffled muslin curtains, full 36 inches wide, 2 1/2 yds. long, 5 rows of tucks, exceedingly well made, each seam being taped and double-stitched. They are usually sold at 65c pair. On sale beginning Saturday at 39c pair.

NEW ETAMINE CURTAINS

We are showing a beautiful assortment of the new Etamine Curtains. These handsome serim curtains are very popular, are made in a variety of pretty styles, some with hemstitched hems, others with ely insertion and edges, filet lace insertion, etc. We mention two particular styles.

One 36 inches wide, 2 1/2 yds. long with real English Cluny edge, hemstitched, at $1.00 pair.

One with 3-inch hem and 2-inch ely insertion; 40 inches wide, 2 1/2 yds. long, at $1.65 pair.

We have many other good numbers ranging in price, 83c to $3.50 pair.

Rugs and Carpets

The enlarged Rug Department on the second floor is outdoing all previous records in rug and carpet selling. The beautiful display room in which we show them, the handsome designs and colors which we are showing and the specially low prices which we are making on all grades of rugs and carpets, all work in one harmonious whole to help you to select pleasing floor coverings at prices that we have never offered such goods at before.

An Unusual Bargain in Rugs

We place on sale tomorrow 100 Tapestry Brussels Rugs at $6.95. They come in floral and oriental patterns, size 9 x 12. An excellent rug for the money. There is no question but what these bargains will be snapped up at once.

We also offer about 25 rugs made up from our remnants of the best brussels and axminster carpets. These are all displayed for easy selection and are shown in all sizes.

YOU CAN SAVE ALMOST HALF ON ANY RUG IN THE LOT. Prices, $5.00 to $25.00; sizes from 6 x 6 ft. to the largest room sizes.

We are now showing the largest assortments ever in our history.

Tapestry Brussels rugs, room sizes, $8.50, $10.50, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00.

Body Brussels Rugs, room sizes in every conceivable size at prices from $1.00 to $25.00.

Velvets, Wilton Velvets and almost every make of rug is here represented in all the newest styles and designs. We carry none but the best, the standard, in each make by which all others are judged.

Visit the new carpet and curtain room the next time you are down town and let us convince you that this is the place to buy carpets and curtains and save money.

Everyone is enthusiastic over the new carpet and curtain section on the second floor. The elevator affords an easy approach.

LAST CENSUS CALLS FOR 1910

D. Elmer Roberts, supervisor of the census for this district, makes a personal request on Janesville to have her count for 1910 complete. In a letter today to the Gazette, he asks that the accompanying coupon be printed, and adds: "It is desired to have the enumeration of the population as complete as possible and all persons who have not been or believe that they have not been reported by the enumerator are requested to fill out the coupon, place in an envelope and mail as directed."

HAVE YOU BEEN ENUMERATED?

If not, or if you have any doubt, fill out this coupon and mail to D. Elmer Roberts, Supervisor of Census, Racine, Wis.

On April 15, 1910, I was living at address given below, but to the best of my knowledge I have not been enumerated there or anywhere else.

The Greatest Clothes Value in Town

Saturday is going to be display day at Rehberg's. There will be an exposition of two lines—the greatest values in Men's Clothes in Southern Wisconsin—specially priced at $11.00 and $14.50. We have never had better suits to offer to the young men of Janesville and Rock County and it is surely an opportune time to buy as the savings are from $2.50 to $4.00 on each suit.

$11.00

At this price we include in a sweeping reduction every suit in our stock priced up to $14.00. These clothes are for young men who want snap and ginger in their clothes, who want the styles of this season at their best, yet at prices moderate. In the lot are grays, tans, mixtures, blues, olives; broad shoulders, long lapels, swell suits.

We also include at $11.00 a lot of suits which we bought a few weeks ago at a reduced price. This lot of suits embody the best features of the season and are garments that ordinarily would retail as high as $15.00. $11.00 never bought better suits.

$14.50

Suits that originally sold as high as $18.00, are now placed on sale at one price, $14.50. This includes the handsome grays, blue serges, browns, olives, and blacks, the pick of the classic styles for spring and summer wear. The broad shoulders with long lapels and dip fronts are novel features this season and they are all represented in this great lot. Such famous clothes as Viking are included at this low price, $14.50, and it's the biggest suit bargain thus far this season.

Clever Clothes, Conservative Clothes

THE HIGHEST ART OF CLOTHES MAKING IS REPRESENTED HERE—A CHOICE TO SUIT EVERY TASTE.

Rehberg's clothing lines are not excelled by any in the world. The Hirsch-Wickwire clothes, the Sophomore clothes, the L. Abt Greek Letter clothes, are leaders in styles, not followers. Hirsch-Wickwire clothes are the equal in fabric, fit and workmanship, of any custom made clothes and they are far ahead in style features and prices. $25.00 will buy a H. W. suit equal to $40.00 custom made.

Sophomore clothes are for younger men—they have dash, class and neatness—just what the young man wants. Come in tomorrow and let us show you something real nifty. Any price, $16.50 to $30.00.

WACHUSETT SHIRTS $1.00

The clever stripes and novelty plaited effects and in plain styles.

CUSTOM MADE SHIRTS $1.50 & $2

Shirts made to our order, exclusive styles and finest fabrics. The biggest value in shirts in town.

$3.00 Pumps, Oxfords and Ties, Special at REHBERG'S 2.40

NOT OFTEN AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SEASON ARE SUCH REMARKABLE VALUES OFFERED.

We secured a lot of Oxfords, Pumps and Ties, fine footwear for women, at a price which enables us to offer them at a saving of 60c on every pair. It's one of those late season purchases, the makers being willing to sacrifice them in order to get them on the market before it was too late.

The line is comprehensive in its style range, including one, two and three strap pumps, two, three and four eyelet ties, and some very clever novelties in the form of instep strap pump and one eyelet tie combined. This last number is beautiful in its lines and offers a variation from the prevailing styles.

The leathers are patent, dull kid and gun metal, including also a number of tans. Tans are being shown in the east for this summer wear and it is expected that they will be good again.

Queen Quality and Selby Oxfords at $3.00 and $3.50, in the season's smartest styles. These two lines are making new friends daily, because they excel in fitting quality and in grace of lines. You will like them better than all others. See our complete spring showing.

Kneeland Oxfords For Men Are Without a Rival

This spring let us fit you out in Kneeland oxfords. No matter what your taste may be, there is a Kneeland to meet it. There are the broad tread lasts for tired feet—and they have style, too—and the knob toe, the Arcade, the speed lasts, etc. Kneelands really have the qualities and the style. We recommend them to our friends and they thank us for it, $4

BOSTONIAN SHOES for young men in clever lasts and new styles, in tans, patent, gun metal and the new gray oxfords. Some of the best for the season are the two eyelet sailor tie, a semi-pump, two button sailor oxford, the Speed last, the Arcade and others at $3.50

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

IF THERE is one inalienable right of childhood it seems to me it's the right to all the sleep it needs, even when that happens to be more than it thinks it wants.

And for that reason nothing makes me more indignant than to see a sleep-headed little kiddie being hustled around on the cars or streets at night and deprived of its right to sleep by the very people who ought to be the most zealous guardians of that right.

In the theater car on which I came home last night there were three of them—one lucky in being small enough to sleep, a troubled, cramped, intermittent sleeper, nothing like what he should have been having in his crib at home, but still a sleeper. One, a little girl five or six years old, leaning uncomfortably against her mother's arm and occasionally lifting her head to ask, fretfully: "Aren't we must there, mamma?" The third, a boy of eight or nine, less obviously suffering from sleeplessness, to be sure, but an even more pathetic sight than the other two, because he had beneath his eyes the deep circles that showed that he was all too well accustomed to such hours.

I don't suppose the society with the long name, that abbreviates to S. P. C. C., would be considered exactly justified in stepping in in cases like these, but I wish it were.

I wish there could be a law prohibiting parents from keeping children under ten out after eight o'clock at night, unless they could show that such a proceeding was absolutely necessary.

It is no cruel to children to bring them up without a full allowance of sleep as without sufficient food.

One of the saddest sights in a big city to me is to go through the slums at eleven o'clock or midnight in summer and see the little children still playing about the streets because it is too hot in the crowded, ill-ventilated tenement houses for them to have much chance of sleeping before then, and because they have parents that are too ignorant to realize what such hours mean for a child.

I think every child up to the age of fourteen might go to bed at seven o'clock practically every night of its life. Fourth of July, Christmas, my birthday and the night of the church fair were about the only exceptions to early retiring that I was allowed, and it didn't hurt me any.

Indeed, I only wish it had been enforced longer.

From fourteen years of age until the child goes through high school, I don't think half past eight or nine for every night in the week, but Friday and Saturday is one bit too early.

Of course, there's going to be a good deal of protest against such a rule when other children are going to bed at all hours of the night. The hard-hearted father or mother that enforces it is going to be pelted with and accused of cruelty, and all that.

But never you mind.

Some day, when the girl realizes that she has a very much better complexion than the girls who went to parties or sat up and read or went to the theatre five nights of the week, and your boy finds he has the kind of physique that's wanted on the varsity team, maybe they're going to realize that early bedtime had something to do with producing these blessings, and come to the point of thinking the author of early bedtimes.

And even if they do forget that little formality—which I suppose is, on the whole, rather likely—I fancy you are going to be so glad of their healthy brains and bodies that you won't going to need much other reward.

Fads and Fashions

New York, May 2.—Some of the new materials displayed in the fashionable shops are exquisitely beautiful and their variety is bewildering. Vello de sole and cashmere de sole, chiffon broadcloth, liberty satin, satin charmeuse, satin crepe de Chine, all these and many more are shown as suitable for the summer gowns. Foulard, tulle, silk, royal pongee and rajah are shown in such an endless selection of colors, weaves and weight that it is difficult to select understandingly. The choice must necessarily depend upon the purpose of the gown for which the material is intended.

The afternoon reception gown, suitable for luncheon or card party, is this season elaborate in design and the transparent materials are the best for it, especially vello de sole. The veiling of one material with another, and one color with another, produces most charming effects and dressmakers vie with one another to be original in inventing combinations.

A charming gown of figured chiffon or crepe is veiled with a loose tulle coat or drapery of black; a fascinating smit-frown chiffon, with border of yellow roses, is veiled with a loose tulle of the more transparent vello de sole of the same shade, and the effect produced by these two transparent materials is extremely pretty. A more elaborate style of gown, suitable for dinners or the theatre, is of liberty satin in a charming shade of gray. This is veiled in vello de sole a shade lighter or darker, the voile put on to form long, flat plaits. The effect gained is far softer than if the entire gown were of date.

The liberty satin, crepe de Chine and the cashmere de sole gowns made on the absolutely simple draped design are most attractive for their almost exaggerated simplicity in contrast with the overelaboration, intricate and exaggerated fashions that so challenge attention this season. A perfect figure has every detail of its perfection exhibited in the draped gown with long skirt and surplice draped waist. The grille of striped silk or satin, with the long ends finished with tassels, is not essential, but is rather a novel touch that some like and others dislike. It is not a gown suitable to every figure, and yet it is astonishing how in the hands of an expert this model can be so carried out that instead of revealing defects it conceals them.

Cashmere de sole is a most exquisite material that is becoming more and more fashionable of late. It has been made up in three piece costume, skirt, waist and coat to match, and for that purpose has been proved without a rival for summer wear. It comes in all grades, all designs and colors and the shades of colors are endless. In black it has a sheen and finish that make it appear like the softest satin, but with a body that the softest satin lacks and which makes it possible for street wear.

The mania for veiling effects is steadily growing and the French makers are in love with the idea of very simple veiling of chiffon, marquisette, tulle or silk muslin, the elaboration of the frock being bestowed upon the under robe or foundation. The results are admirable, for beautiful embroideries, laces and other trimming, some of which would be somewhat too gorgeous or pretentious, take on a subtle refinement when seen through a cloudy veiling. With the aid of veiling, too, colors otherwise too vibrant or vivid for general wear are toned down to becoming softness, and the artist designers accomplish marvels in the subduing of materials.

Hats faced with black are holding their own for becoming reasons. Shapes and sizes have never been more flexible. Trimming has never been more unique, and so long as the distinctive hat is produced it may take on whatever lines and colors prove most becoming.

The latest hat story shows more elaborate patterns in the higher-priced designs and many beautiful innovations. Those headed across the forehead and up the ankle are, perhaps, the most novel, while others embrodered in vellolike designs appear more graceful than those with the decorations scattered indiscriminately in an all-over or loose pattern.

A design accentuating a circle just above the bust is now, and there are innumerable drop-stitch effects. In the weave that will have render side than for several past seasons. The colors are unusually varied and can be found to match any gown. Some are of a most beautiful changeable silk, while others are so closely embroidered that they have the two-toned effect without being actually woven in that way.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

THE GOSPEL OF RELAXATION.

By MARY H. SARGENT.

lines; wrinkles, as we call them, but, if she but knew it, she need have only noble age lines. These crisp, erect, tight, fine wrinkles which speak for themselves, irritable, rebellious thoughts are entirely unnecessary.

True, the woman who is inwardly miserable, revolting against the beliefs she must carry her mark, she cannot hide it though she wear wrinkle patches and fill the lines with face creams to the end of her days. Nothing but that peace which passeth all understanding will take away those earmarks.

The gospel of relaxation, sweet, peace and light will do the work if she will open her mind and heart to learn the good news. Some time when trying to read take a searchlight and inventory yourself. Do you not find every muscle tense, hands clenched, back rigid, limbs done up in knots, the skin of your face quivering with tenseness and your mouth drawn in four hundred puckers or in a straight line. Anything but lovely?

You were trying to forget, trying to sleep with all the world on your back. First relax the muscles of your mouth, let the lips loose, let them take on their natural curves. Smooth out your face by the same process of complete relaxation. I am sure that already you are rested and find it easier to think of pleasant things. Then, after you have applied this relaxing formula to your whole body you will feel like a human being, not a machine ready to jump.

"Tout passe," as the French say. Would you have yourself pass out of life a repellent looking mortal, or would you not rather have it said that you passed your very beautiful life in sweetness and light, that the light and sweetness in the world was made as much of by you as were your troubles? Everything does pass; the pleasant things as well as the disagreeable, so make haste and make much of the thing you like the best; be it pleasure or sorrow, it remains with you to take your choice.

You have those ugly rebellious lines in your face if you wish them, or you can see only the light, and the beautiful, helpful, and a heaven of light to friend, yes, and for. "The bitterest drug will pass." Then why make much more of it than you do of the happy day, as most mortals do?

Surely there is no rhyme or reason in allowing one's self to be unlovely and miserable when a wee bit of common sense and a large desire for sweetness and light will make one lovably beautiful. Beauty does not always consist in beauty of form, this we all know.

HINTS TO JUNE BRIDES.

By Rose Terrill.

The June bride is worrying over her wardrobe these lovely spring days. That's one of the objections to a spring wedding—all the time that should be devoted to a spring furnishing of heart and mind and soul is devoted to preparing wedding garments.

The man who goes to the tailor and orders his clothes cut in the latest approved pattern and then tells the tailor do the worrying, can hardly appreciate the situation. He is anxious to take his little love for the delightful walks and rides that belong to the loveliest season of the year. But she, poor dear, is working over her clothes as if this were possibly the last chance for a new garment.

Do be wise, dear girl, and take good care to keep happy and gay. It means more to you than you think. There are all the memories you are leaving in the home circle. There is the serene spirit that you will need in the building of the new home.

There will always be clothes but there will not always be this same delightful time of the year and the heart. Take it while you can.

And now for the dress-making worries. Consider the future—are you going to stay at home this summer? Then why make so many transparent waists now. You will have had as much time and more, after you are married, and you can make them after marriage too as well as now.

Be sure and have one really good tailored suit. If you are limited as to money put the big sum into the street suit. You will find that it pays in the long run.

Then for the other gowns get simple failures, plainly made, or dainty tub gowns that are not hard to make and are always so girlish and fresh.

White will be as great a favorite this season as it was last year, and nothing is more satisfactory, if you are trying to be economical, a white gown for summer is always economical.

Don't spend very much time over underwear. I know the seamstress about hand-made garters and making all one's own frillies and all the rest of the time honored folkways by which the girls of past decades went down in object adoration.

Never was there greater nonsense than the old superstition that to be dainty all the fine little stitches must be set by patient fingers.

Take my advice. Get an early and big you to the stores while the day is fresh. Purchase wisely. Avoid a great display of cheap lace and embroidery, and come home with a cheerful face and be ready to enjoy living a little before the wedding day.

It is still an axiom that a bride is always at her homeliest before the wedding day. She is too tired to be pretty. Many a quiverer owes its beginning to the devotion to the needle. Cultivate your soul and let the sewing go.

CHARMING AFTERNOON HAT.

For semi-dress occasions the above hat is delightful. It may be had in black or white chip, or one chooses, and the sole decoration is a tall wreath of rose foliage, joined on left side under three huge American Beauty roses.

SUMMER FROCK FOR WATERING RESORT.

This model will appeal to the girl contemplating spending the summer at a watering resort. The material is white serge, with handkerchief pocket, collar and cuffs of black dotted white organdy, edged with a tiny frill of plain organdy. These are made removable for laundering purposes.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M. M. D.

The exchange of air in the lungs depends as much upon the elasticity of the air cells and of the chest resuming its normal capacity, as upon the formation of the space which first receives the air. To perfect the breathing power we must avoid whatever endangers the elasticity of the air cells, such things, for instance, as pounding over the lungs when they are distended with air, or sudden forced expiration.

We should use exercises which strengthen the expiratory muscles. The backward flexions accomplish this purpose. All exercises are respiratory; but, in addition to this, each one should have time set apart for special breathing exercises. Bearing the importance of good breathing in mind, teachers can introduce no postures which contract the chest nor applaud any gymnastic feat performed which causes the chest to be less flexible, or make it immobile. Those movements which bend the chest forward, backward, sideways, etc., etc., contribute directly to chest expansion if properly executed. They should be made so gradually, that the heaving movements be not incompatible with erect head and free breathing.

The energy of our food can only become converted into action in presence of oxygen. We need to replenish this supply constantly, and the more generously we do so the more working power we shall have.

500 WERE KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE

SEISMIC DISTURBANCE DESTROYED CARTAGO, COSTA RICA, WITH TERRIBLE RESULTS.

GREAT NUMBER ARE INJURED

Telegraphic Communication Is Severed—Operators Are Killed—Hundred Are Homeless—Martial Law Prevails—Other Portions Shaken.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, May 6.—A large part of Cartago, Costa Rica, was destroyed by a powerful seismic movement. Details are very meager, as the telegraph wires have been severed between San Jose and Cartago. The operators at the latter place were killed.

Five hundred persons are dead and fully as many are wounded. Half the houses in the city have been destroyed. Hundreds of men, women and children are homeless.

The first news of the calamity reached here in dispatches from San Jose, which is 13 miles northwest of the stricken city.

Martial Law Is Proclaimed

Martial law has been proclaimed and the soldiers and police are having the greatest difficulty in maintaining order.

Although other parts of Costa Rica have been undamaged, the greatest excitement is said to prevail throughout the republic. Hundreds of refugees have reached San Jose by the railway line which connects the two cities, while scores of families are encamped on the hillsides overlooking the ruins of the ancient city.

Thousands are journeying from San Jose to render assistance to the dying and the wounded. Food supplies and clothing were sent and all available surgeons and nurses in San Jose are doing all in their power to relieve their suffering.

Will Appeal for Aid.

It is understood the president of Costa Rica will issue a proclamation calling upon the people of Costa Rica and the sister republics of Central America to contribute to the wants of the survivors of the earthquake.

Dispatches from San Jose report that the Spanish minister to Costa Rica has asked the Madrid government to authorize him to give financial assistance to the survivors and refugees.

Two hours after the first shock was felt in Cartago an immense meteor passed over the Porto Rican-Nicaraguan frontier, leaving a luminous track for about ten seconds. This spectacular phenomenon caused great fear among residents of the rural districts.

Shock Felt in Five Republics.

Reports have been received from various cities in the five Central American republics that earthquake shocks were felt at about the same hour Cartago was destroyed. At Greytown, Nicaragua, the shock lasted for more than ten seconds, and was rather severe, although no damage is reported. Several towns along the San Juan river reported that windows were broken by the shocks.

It is impossible with the advice at hand to attempt to give any estimate of the damage to property, but it is known that the loss will run far into the millions.

Efforts are now being made to restore telegraphic communication with the stricken city, and until this is done more complete details of the earthquake cannot be obtained.

PATTEN IS NOW A DEFENDANT.

Is Subpoenaed by United States in Cotton Pool Proceedings.

New York, May 6.—The federal authorities have brought a new proceeding against the alleged pool in May cotton, naming this time as the principal defendant, James A. Patten of Chicago.

Although the supposed head of the alleged pool, Mr. Patten's name was not included in the subpoena served in accordance with the original grand jury investigation two weeks ago, Frank D. Hayne and W. B. Brown, were the only defendants mentioned in that proceeding. The new subpoena, many copies of which were served in the financial district, is entitled:

"The United States against James A. Patten and others."

The man who gained celebrity or notoriety by wheat deals in Chicago, is thus brought formally into the case.

BASEBALL GRAND STAND BURNS.

Panics Break Out Among Spectators But All Escape Injury.

Chillicothe, O., May 6.—Fire, breaking out in the seventh inning of the opening game of the Ohio State league season here, between Chillicothe and Lancaster, caused a panic in the stands. In three minutes the plant was wrapped in flames. Quick work on the part of attendants of the park prevented loss of life, the patrons being carried to the ground. The only injuries were due to trampling. The grand stand and bleachers were destroyed.

30,000 Homeless in Fire.

Kobe, Japan, May 6.—Reports from Aomori, northern Japan, partially destroyed by fire, say 8,000 houses and all public buildings were burned. Thirty thousand persons are homeless.

187 MEN THOUGHT TO HAVE LOST THEIR LIVES IN SHIPWRECK. Heartrending scene when the sailing ship Aurora sank after a collision with an iceberg. Drawn from telegraphic description. At top, map showing the approximate location of the ship off the coast of Labrador.

St. John's, N. F.—All hope for the ill-fated steamer Aurora, has been given up. She has already been missing 30 days, and it is feared that the lives of 187 men in her crew have been sacrificed in the unequal fight against icebergs and high winds in the North Atlantic. No definite confirmation is obtainable, but floating boats, which have been along the coast of Labrador, New Foundland, have failed to find any trace of the missing ship, which is thought to have belonged to the Consolidated Steam Fishing and Ice company of Chesbury England, engaged in the sealing industry. If the vessel is lost it will mark one of the worst catastrophes of sea, in the point of human lives sacrificed during recent years.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF NEW HAMPSHIRE—MRS. MARILLA RICKER OF DOVER, N. H.

Dover, N. H.—Mrs. Marilla Ricker, of Dover, N. H., thinks a woman can govern a state as well as a man.

To prove this she has entered the arena as candidate for governor of New Hampshire at the next election. This is not her first appearance in politics, as, about a dozen years ago, she sought an appointment as Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of Columbia, and later sought a republican nomination for congress in the First district, which includes Dover, her home town.

Mrs. Ricker is a member of the New Hampshire bar, and well known throughout the country in the legal profession, as well as an equal suffrage advocate.

MRS. MARY QUIRK.
Woman who joined husband in suit against playwright.

Charges of plagiarism are made against Joseph Medill Patterson in a suit filed in the United States circuit court in Chicago by Eugene Quirk, a Chicago newspaper man, and Mary I. Quirk, who demand $25,000 damages, charging that the defendant used the main theme of a novel entitled "Drifting," which they wrote, for the foundation of his play, "The Fourth Estate," now being produced at the Studebaker theater in Chicago. The plaintiffs in the action ask also an injunction restraining the production of the play.

The complaint states that the story told in the novel, published in 1905, deals with a newspaper man in the role of a reformer and the powerful influence of commercial interests pitted against him, similar to the story related in "The Fourth Estate." The bill charges that Patterson, in his play, thus transposed, varied, adopted and disguised scenes, situations and incidents from the novel, and that he has filched, pilfered, plagiarized and appropriated practically every special character in his play from the novel.

The play, "The Fourth Estate," was written by Joseph Medill Patterson and Harriet Ford, but the latter has not been made a party to the action. The play has been one of the successful ones of the season. It ran for four weeks at Wallack's in New York and 150 performances have been given in Chicago at the Grand opera-house and the Studebaker theatre. It is now running at the latter place. It is estimated that the play has netted for its authors about $15,000.

Mr. Patterson, who was commissioner of public works during the famous administration and who created a mild sensation in social circles several years ago through his socialistic writings and speeches, declined last night to discuss the suit brought against him further than to say that he had never read the book which he is charged with having plagiarized. "I don't remember ever having seen the book," said Mr. Patterson, "and I am sure that I never read of it. I know Mr. Quirk personally, but he never told me the plot or story of his novel."

Preserving Terraces.

If there are terraces where heavy rains cause the sods to slip off, a good and permanent remedy is to set common barberry bushes rather closely on the terrace. The roots will hold up the terrace and keep it safe from freshets. The lawn will be beautiful the year around with the shrubs.

Just Escaped.

The world is full of people whose friends think they "escaped" being geniuses by the breadth of a hair.

THE SECOND TIME.

"She hasn't changed much since she lost her husband."
"Not in appearance, but in name she has."

CORN EXCHANGE.

See the happy smile on the faces of the Committee on Refreshments.

And why shouldn't they smile?

They've done their duty well, and they know that the appreciative picnic party will give them a hearty vote of thanks. For they've provided Gund's Peerless Beer—the beer of good fellows and the good fellow of beers.

The world's best barley and imported Bohemian hops are blended by the exclusive Gund natural process into the one perfect brew.

You'll like it, too. Ask your dealer.
